

I strongly believe that changing rules/regulations regarding ownership of the "media" would not create an atmosphere of competition, diversity and localism. At this point in time there are only a handful of corporations that own our radio, TV and newspapers. The public is not now getting a diversity of opinions or points of view. What you hear and the light that it is presented in depends on the politics of the owners, and it may not necessarily reflect the truth. I hope that this commission does not change the regulations regarding ownership. Thank you.
